

Copyright Information

You do not acquire any ownership interest or rights in the Products and associated materials and all such rights and interests remain in ProQuest and its licensors.

All intellectual property rights, including without limitation, trade secrets, copyrights and patent rights to any software, materials, databases or hardware supplied to you by ProQuest will remain the sole property of ProQuest or its licensors, and no title or license right is granted to you except as expressly set forth in this Agreement.

You may create printouts of materials retrieved through the Products via on-line printing, off-line printing, facsimile, or electronic mail. All reproduction and distribution of such printouts, and all downloading and electronic storage of materials retrieved through the Products shall be for your own internal or personal use. Downloading of all or parts of the Products in a systematic or regular manner so as to create a collection of materials comprising all or part of the Products is strictly prohibited whether or not such collection is in electronic or print form. Notwithstanding the above restrictions, this paragraph shall not restrict your use of the materials under the doctrines of "fair use" or "fair dealing" as defined under the laws of the United States or England, respectively.

Individual content providers or licensors may have conditions of use applicable solely to their content. Such conditions of use shall be displayed on the computer screen displays associated with such content and shall not materially alter your use of the Products.

Please check the License Agreement pertinent to the SIRS Researcher® product for further restrictions <http://sks.sirs.com/cgi-bin/hst-table-display?file=license.html&id=SSKSAB-0-2569>.
